One listen to Eagle & Hawk's distinctive sound and you'll be hooked. By blending inspired vision with musical talent, they've created a progressive style of 'rock' steeped in roots and fusion that continues to earn fans and fanfare worldwide.

Coming off one of their most successful periods, Eagle & Hawk have remained a household name while soaring as a marquee act. During the past year, the band has entertained audiences on Canada AM, at the Canadian Aboriginal Music Awards, and the National Aboriginal Achievement Awards. One of their most meaningful performances was playing a 70-minute concert with full accompaniment from the world-renowned Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra.

Eagle & Hawk are best known for live shows that are energizing, interactive, and simply irresistible. While effervescent performances continue to win over international and national audiences, their talent and determination quietly garner respect from fans and critics alike.

ABOUT THEIR MUSIC

Eagle & Hawk take the lead in defining the genre of contemporary Indigenous music, with a sound that fuses modern rock with traditional elements. Determined to match the success of their previous releases, they dug deep to write and record their latest album in 2008. Sirensong offers up catchy hooks, thoughtful lyrics, and good-old fashioned stories. It also added four Aboriginal Peoples Choice Music Awards and three Canadian Aboriginal Music Awards to their impressive list of nearly 50 awards and nominations garnered since 1999.
